Man shot at and stabbed in attack

A MAN was stabbed then shot at in a 'distressing' incident in a street where police had hours earlier been holding a 'crime reduction' roadshow.

The terrifying attack happened in Copenhagen Close on Monday, just hours after a police team had been giving out crime prevention advice in the same spot.

Officers from Bedfordshire Police were called back to the street at 7.45pm to reports of an altercation.

Three men were sitting in a parked car when they were approached by a man.

One of the men got out of the car and was stabbed, before the offender fled the scene. Shortly afterwards a man arrived on a moped and fired a gun at the three men before escaping. Fortunately no-one was hit by the gunfire.

The man who was stabbed was taken to hospital but his injuries are not life-threatening.

One resident said: "It's pretty horrible to have this kind of thing happening on your doorstep."

Detective Inspector Andy Southam said: "I understand this is a distressing incident for the local community. We have a number of resources dedicated to the investigation."

Anyone with information is asked to call 101.

Jail for killer driver

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MAN has been sentenced to eight years in prison for causing the death of teenager Wanessa Lewandowska.

Miss Lewandowska died when a silver Volkswagen Golf, in which she was a passenger, crashed into a building in High Town Road, Luton, at around 10.20pm on August 9, while the car was being followed by police officers.

A court heard that 15-year-old Miss Lewandowska and another passenger were screaming at the driver, Michael Fludgate, to slow down or stop.

But he ignored their pleas and reached speeds of 80 mph in a 20 mph area, taking off when he hit a speed hump and crashing into a TV repair shop.

Fludgate was seriously injured and airlifted to hospital and a 24-year-old man in the front fled the car, but later went to police.

Fludgate, 20, pleaded guilty to causing death by dangerous driving, causing death while uninsured and causing death while unlicensed.

He pleaded guilty to the offences at the earliest opportunity, and was sentenced to eight years custody, banned from driving for four years after his release and will have to take an extended driving test.

Judge Richard Foster said: "You ignored the blue lights, and you disregarded your passengers screaming at you to slow down. Sadly Wanessa was killed. Nothing this court can say or do can bring back her life."

Following the crash, the Independent Police Complaints Commission set up an inquiry which continues.

Editor's Letter

Let's think about the name game

WHAT's in a name? It's something I've been thinking about after reading a column from my old stomping ground in Birmingham.

The columnist was writing about the number of reporters with the name Andy Richardson – four apparently.

But it got me thinking about my own name, and wondering how many other Katy Hallams are out there writing away. Surely I must have a doppelganger namesake of my own in the journalism world? Nope.

But there are quite a few journalists out there with my first name.

I'll confess, when I was younger I used to really hate my name. I got annoyed at my parents for lumping me with the traditional spelling.

When people haven't met me before, or heard my name in conversation, they think it is pronounced cat-ee. It happens more than you'd think.

But now I've come full circle, first wanting to blend in and now wanting to stand out from the crowd as much as possible.

Report predicts stadium plans will boost economy

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

AN independent report has predicted that plans for Power Court and Newlands Park could generate £225m a year for Luton's economy.

The plans, which have been submitted to and validated by Luton Borough Council, will see a new stadium for Luton Town FC at Power Court and a mixed use facility near Stockwood, called Newlands Park.

Gary Sweet, chief executive of

NEW HOME: The Hatters hope to move to have moved by 2020

Luton Town Football Club, said: "We designed this with the aim of changing the face of Luton for the better and this report shows it will do that."

"The club expected the results to be very good but this is a mind-blowing figure which has exceeded our expectations.

"I speak here as a Lutonian, but this makes the application rock solid in terms of its benefits to the town."

The report, released by firm KPMG, has said that more than 10,000 new jobs could be created as a result of the project, noting that the figure could increase should the club move up the football league pyramid.

Cllr Sian Timoney, portfolio holder for regeneration said: "It's fantastic news that the report is predicting such huge financial growth for Luton, which is only a good thing."

Luton Borough Council is currently accepting feedback from residents regarding the development.

Prison 'is still failing'

A JAIL has been described as a 'good example of everything that is wrong with the prison system' after a report revealed failings across the board.

Chief inspector of prisons, Peter Clarke, called HMP Bedford 'disappointing' after publishing the report of an unannounced inspection this week.

At its previous inspection in 2014, inspectors made 72 recommendations and this time found only 12 had been achieved.

Inspectors were concerned to discover a number of failings including a rise in self-harm and self-inflicted deaths and the free availability of drugs. They also found the condition of the prison was poor, with cramped conditions. The prison, designed to hold 322 prisoners, was found to be vastly over capacity with 493 inmates.

Frances Crook, chief executive of the Howard League for Penal Reform, said of the findings: "The great reformer, John Howard, was so shocked by what he saw inside Bedford prison in the 1770s that he embarked on a personal quest to improve conditions in jails across the country and beyond."

"This report reveals that, almost 250 years later, Bedford prison is still failing prisoners and still failing the public."

Inmate jailed for attempted rape

BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

A MAN has been sentenced to an extra five-and-a-half years in jail for the attempted rape of a fellow prisoner - who was then told by other inmates he 'deserved it' because of how he dressed.

Orrin Lindsey, 26, of Luton, was serving a jail sentence for burglary when he attempted to force a fellow prisoner in to give him oral sex at HMP Bedford on January 10 earlier this year.

Lindsey took hold of the man, pulled him into his cell and shut the door, Luton Crown Court was told.

He was jailed on Wednesday after pleading guilty on what would have been the first day of his trial, and the court heard a statement from the victim on the impact it had on him.

The victim said: "I'm no longer my bubbly self and I don't feel like the same person anymore. Because of the way I dress, other inmates are saying that I deserved it."

"I've always dressed the same and nothing like this has happened before. I don't think the way I dress should make anyone want to hurt me, it's not an excuse."

"The person has pleaded guilty, so it is a really big relief that I've been believed and that it wasn't my fault."

Prosecutor Corrine Bramwell said the man resisted as Lindsey grabbed the back of his neck and told him to open his mouth.

Another prisoner alerted staff and a prison officer

MORE TIME BEHIND BARS: Orrin Lindsey, 26, from Luton, tried to force a fellow Bedford inmate to give him oral sex in an assault entered the cell.

Lindsey was arrested and made no comment to police questions.

The victim suffered reddening to his throat.

Defending, James Wing said it was two years since Lindsey had a girlfriend, adding: "He was in an isolated and solitary condition and his thoughts were confused."

Judge Michael Kay QC said that although it was an isolated incident it was 'a very serious matter'. Following the verdict

Detective Constable Jamal Hassan, of Bedfordshire Police, said: "This was an excellent result and I'm pleased that Lindsey will be made to pay the price for his abhorrent actions."

"No-one should ever have to put up with being sexually assaulted and the emotional torture that this type of incident causes. I'm hoping that the strong sentence issued by the judge today will deter others from thinking this type of behaviour is ever acceptable."

Talent star's smooth moves at new gym

A WINNER of Britain's Got Talent showed off his super dance moves as he opened a new gym and dance studio.

George Sampson won the ITV talent show back in 2008 aged just 14, when he wowed the nation and judges Simon Cowell, Piers Morgan and Amanda Holden, with his dance routine to a remix of Singin' in the Rain.

And he strutted more stunning steps as he opened the new Anytime Fitness gym in The Mall shopping centre on

BY GEORGE: Star dancer George Sampson fits right in at Anytime Fitness

Thursday afternoon.

George, now 23, also broke in the new dance studio by teaching a routine to fans and eager members of staff, with some discovering hidden talents.

Ruth Holroyd, one of the people George instructed, wrote on Instagram: "I messed it up but had so much fun. I'm now practicing it in the kitchen."

The new gym, which is open 24 hours every day, is located on the gallery level of The Mall by bridalwear store Delphine Alexander.

Since winning the talent show and its £100,000 prize, George has starred in the West End and has also become an actor, featuring in TV shows such as Waterloo Road.

Rebrand is 'just a waste of money'

BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

A COUNCIL rebrand has been called 'a waste of money' by the leader of the Conservative group.

Luton Borough Council and several other partners have rolled out a new 'brand' for the town, which has involved the council changing its logo to match the new branding.

But the cost of the rebrand, which will include updating headed paper, stationery, uniforms and signage, will be between £7-10,000.

And the move was not welcomed by Councillor Michael Garrett, the leader of the Conservative group.

He told Luton on Sunday: "What's it going to achieve? I don't think it's a wise use of funds. I'm not happy spending that sort of money when we have budget cuts and problems that need to be solved like littering."

One council worker, who did not wish to be named, added: "We have just come out of a moratorium on all spending yet we can do this?"

"My department have to order new headed paper, which will cost us about £250 for 10,000 sheets. The council talks a lot about cost saving but in my experience doesn't act on its own advice."

The council said the new brand will 'reflect the exciting future that lies ahead' for Luton. It added that no money had been spent on the design of the brand, which was done in house by council staff.

A spokesman added: "We are currently updating our back-office systems and templates with the brand."

"£7,000 has been spent on replacing some priority high impact items and we are still identifying others."

"The majority of remaining items will take place over a longer period when there is a natural need to do so – such as when stationery runs out or signage needs updating."

Three flee scene as car hits home

editor@londonmedia.co.uk

NEIGHBOURS have described the moment a car careered out of control and smashed into a house – taking out a garden wall and sending the porch cladding flying.

Witnesses to the destruction in Riddy Lane on Tuesday claimed three men fled the vehicle – a blue Renault Clio – after the crash, leaving the occupant of the house hugely distressed as she emerged ‘crying’ from inside.

Emergency services including firefighters and police officers were called to the home on Tuesday afternoon just after midday.

Neighbours told Luton on Sunday how the car ‘lost control’ as it headed down Riddy Lane – a 20mph zone – before careering into the home at the junction with Broughton Avenue at high speed.

One witness said: “We were inside and heard a big bang. “Everybody came out of their homes onto the road, and we saw the car had gone into the front door, but there was no-one there.”

BIG DAMAGE: The blue Renault Clio crashed into the home in Riddy Lane. Three people are reported to have run away from the scene

“It’s a shame. They are a really lovely family, really nice people. The daughter was inside the house when it happened and she came running out of the back door crying really loudly. All the neighbours tried to comfort her.”

“It’s worrying because these young kids lost control, when people drive like mad they don’t care. They could easily have hit a pedestrian.” The home was still cordoned off by fire tape days after the incident. Witnesses reported one white man running off in the direction of the park, while two black men ran away up Broughton Avenue. They were thought to be teenagers. A spokeswoman for Bedfordshire Police added: “Three men are reported to have been seen getting out of the car and running away.”

“No-one was injured in the incident. Police are investigating and any witnesses are being asked to call 101.”

Nadiya favourite to be Bake Off judge

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

GREAT British Bake Off champion Nadiya Hussain has emerged as a hot favourite to be named as the new female judge of the baking show following Mary Berry's decision to quit.

Luton-born mum-of-three Nadiya, who won the show last year, has carved out a career as a popular personality and author and even presented a two-part documentary on food from her native Bangladesh, The Chronicles of Nadiya, which recently aired on BBC 1.

Although Nadiya has not confirmed whether or not she will be replacing Mary, at the time of publication bookies William Hill has stated that she is favourite to become a new judge on the show at 3/1.

It's been a busy week for Nadiya, who also took part in a Children's Author Live event.

Maidenhall Primary pupils in Years 3-6 were invited to submit questions to the Great British Bake Off 2015 winner, who was once a pupil at the school. Nadiya is currently promoting her new children's book Bake Be a Story, which combines baking with children's stories.

HOT FAVOURITE: Nadiya Hussain is leading the chase to become a new judge of The Great British Bake Off, after its move to Channel 4

The Children's Author Live event was watched by young students across the country, and pupils in Years 3-6 at Maidenhall watched Nadiya reading an excerpt from her book on a big screen in the school sports hall.

As she once attended Maidenhall she was keen to include questions from the school, and the current pupils were happy to send in their submissions.

Emma Seabourne, Deputy Headteacher at Maidenhall Primary School, said: "The Children's Author Live event was a wonderful opportunity for our students to engage with an inspirational former pupil."

"It was really nice of Nadiya to ask us to participate and our students thoroughly enjoyed the experience."

BLOGGER OF THE WEEK: Tom Maunders

Working at Whipsnade

This week's blog comes from Tom Maunders, a trainee keeper at Whipsnade Zoo, who gives an insight on his role behind the scenes at the zoo, where he is tasked with looking after a range of reptiles, amphibians, invertebrates, fish and small mammals.

AS a trainee keeper on the 'ectotherms' section at ZSL Whipsnade Zoo I am responsible for the care of various types of reptiles, amphibians, invertebrates, fish and small mammals.

My daily routine starts at 8am when I will walk around all the animal enclosures and check that all animals are accounted for and look healthy.

At this point I am also checking the temperatures are correct for the animals' enclosures; tropical species such as the endangered spiny turtles require a temperature of around 20-30c in their exhibit.

After my observations are done it is time to start preparing breakfast for the animals, typically the breakfast menus will include orange peel for our ants, fruit flies for our colony of poison dart frogs and chunks of meat for our group of dwarf mongooses.

Once breakfast has been prepared and the animals have been fed, it's time to start cleaning the enclosures. I need to make sure they are all clean and ready to be opened to the public by the time the zoo opens at 10am.

Once we're open I start my other tasks, these may include counting our extremely rare partula snails, which are part of a vital ZSL conservation programme. I also need to weigh our collection of turtles and tortoises once a week and this allows me to monitor their well-being.

Around midday is when I begin training with some of the animals I care for, such as saki monkeys, Geoffrey's marmosets, dwarf mongoose and snapping turtles.

Training with our Geoffrey's marmosets may involve, for example, crate training, which is done so we can easily monitor their health and make sure any trips to the vets are as stress free as possible.

Later on I will begin preparing the animal's afternoon feeds which can include salads, steamed vegetables, cat biscuits, various insects and even brine shrimp and bloodworm.

As the day starts to draw to an end we need to ensure any observations we have made about our animals are logged on a computerised record keeping system, this is a very important part of our job because it allows us to closely monitor our animals through the use of graphs and historical data.

Just before the zoo closes we need to make sure that all animals are heading to their beds ready for another fun-filled day tomorrow.

When working with animals the one thing you can always guarantee is that no two days will be the same.

Ignorance of faith

Re: Blogger of the week Basit Mahmood's (pictured) article on the subject of Muslims and Islam.

While I agree that everything (and more) needs to be done to tackle Islamophobia, I do not believe that most of the mass media journalists suffer from religious illiteracy only.

Ignorance certainly plays a part for it blinds them from what is and what seems to be. But it cannot be denied that there is some intent, bordering on malice, on the part of a good lot of journalists to malign Islam with an ulterior motive. It fits into an anti-Muslim narrative. It gives body and soul to the grey area of violence called 'terrorism'.

Does it require stressing that 2.7 million souls here in Britain and over 1.6 billion (and counting) the world over cannot be 'the enemy', the 'terrorists' and any other Islamophobic tag the journalists love to stick to them? Some may shout the name of Allah, some may profess Islam, but they are no Muslims for Islam doesn't allow taking life.

This terror narrative, however, has reached such a pass that over 700 people (mostly black) have been gunned down in the US this year alone. Not even seventy people have died of any terror attack in the same country, in the same period. But fighting terror has spawned an industry yet no one bats an eyelid at the gun lobby.

Permit me to emphasise that Muslims are like any other group of people. Same hopes, same ambitions, same fears and same concern for the good of all. There will be, nay there are, some bad apples amongst those who call themselves Muslims (Anjem Chaudhry and his ilk?) just as there are in any section of society. We all should join forces to find them, apprehend them and ostracise them. That is the only way to root out the extremists from amongst us and take us back to the golden age of social cohesion in this country.

Not just call into question the dedication and values of every fourth person on this planet like the media has been ravenously doing these past years.

Generation Brexit

I AM in the age group who are fast approaching 60 years old. People like me have worked and paid into the system for over 42 years.

We have worked hard all our lives, and paid our taxes and N.I. contribution. We should be entitled to a first class quality health service.

But we are being screwed by the very system that we have helped to keep alive.

We paid lots of money in, and get very little back.

Two weeks to see a GP. When you do, you get five minutes. If all you need is a handful of pills, you are laughing. But if it's something more serious. Unlucky you.

Is it any wonder so many older people voted Brexit?

We are putting other people's needs before our own. That's immoral.

I would love another referendum, just to give me the chance to vote Brexit again.

Autism helpers

THE National Autistic Society is looking for local people and organisations making a difference to the lives of autistic people and their families. We want to share their stories so we can increase public understanding of autism and inspire others to improve their own practice.

Perhaps it's a teaching assistant who has helped a child to achieve something great or a business that has made adjustments for autistic employees.

If any readers know of an inspirational individual or organisation, please nominate them for the Autism Professionals Awards 2017.

Derelict nightclub damaged in blaze

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

DOZENS of firefighters fought back the flames at a derelict former nightclub.

Six fire engines raced to save the building in Upper George Street, Luton, after members of the public alerted Bedfordshire Fire and Rescue Service to the blaze just after 10.30am on Monday morning.

A spokeswoman for the service said the fire was 'serious' but that no-one was injured.

She added: "It was a small fire, which caused lots of smoke, which we quickly put out, arriving just eight minutes after the first call."

The fire broke out on the first floor of the two-storey building, number 27, which also has a basement.

Six pumps were in use at the height of the blaze, as well as an aerial platform allowing firefighters to reach the first floor.

The Incident Support Unit was also in attendance and firefighters used breathing apparatus, four hosereel jets and two covering jets to battle the flames.

A spokeswoman for Bedfordshire Fire and Rescue Service said: "Bedfordshire Fire and Rescue Service are attending a serious fire at a derelict building at 27 Upper George St, Luton."

"Six pumps, aerial platform and the command unit attended the scene."

We would like to extend a warm welcome to parents and pupils in Key Stage 2 to tour our school, see our pupils and staff working together, enjoying learning and achieving excellent outcomes.

GONE: A witness claims the peacock was hit by a car last weekend

Peacock 'killed' in collision

A PEACOCK roaming free in Luton has died after being hit by a car – according to witnesses.

The exotic bird, which has been sighted several times across different locations in the town over the summer, was said to have died after a collision last Saturday.

One LoS reader told us: "A friend saw a car in front hit it. It's such a shame and I thought your readers would like to know."

The bird is native to forests in India, Burma, Sri Lanka and Africa, but in recent weeks has been settling in well in Luton, exploring the streets of the town. The witness said there had been a number of near misses with vehicles before the peacock was hit.

Virtual courts to save police time

BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

POLICE custody suites will now be fitted with 'virtual courts' allowing more court cases to be heard by video.

It is a move which Bedfordshire Police says will save valuable time and money for frontline officers in Luton.

The change was agreed jointly on Wednesday with the Hertfordshire and Cambridgeshire police forces – and ratified by all three Police and Crime

Commissioners (PCCs). It will allow defendants to attend their first Magistrates' Court hearing via a video link, while police officers could make court applications from their base, reducing the time spent travelling and waiting at court.

The force says this time can be 're-invested into frontline policing and protecting local communities'.

It is also hoped the scheme will help increase the number of early guilty pleas.

In Hertfordshire, where virtual courts were introduced in 2012, the number of early guilty pleas has increased in cases where the new technology was used.

Bedfordshire PCC Kathryn Holloway said: "This will save both time and money – officers and witnesses will be able to give evidence remotely."

Assistant Chief Constable Mike Colbourn added: "This is an exciting development which will allow us to give an improved service to, and swifter justice for, victims of crime."

Robots have new home at Amazon

BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

ROBOTS are helping Amazon workers send out parcels quicker than ever before at a warehouse that has created hundreds of jobs.

The site, in Boscombe Road, Dunstable, now employs more than 1,500 people in permanent positions after opening last autumn and shipping its first order in October 2015.

This week it was officially opened by South West Bedfordshire MP Andrew Selous, who was shown the new robot technology at the warehouse which helps staff process and then post packages which have been ordered from the retail giant.

The robots slide under a tower of shelves where products are stowed, lift it and move it through the building, reducing walking time by moving the shelves to employees, and also allowing for 50 per cent more items to be stowed per square foot.

Mr Selous even managed to name one of the robots after his pet dog Toby.

IMPRESSED: MP Andrew Selous visited the new Amazon fulfilment centre in Boscombe Road, Dunstable. Image by Joel Chant

He said: "It is incredibly exciting to have a global company like Amazon in Dunstable using cutting edge technology and I am delighted that Amazon has created more than 1,500 jobs in the heart of Dunstable."

It's yet another boost for the town. Last week Luton on Sunday reported how new shops were being opened at White Lion Retail Centre, while the town centre is also set to see investment with a new splash park and cafe among several planned schemes.

Councillor Nigel Young, executive member for regeneration at Central Bedfordshire Council, said the centre was good news for the county. He added: "We have taken steps to make it a desirable place for major employers to invest, so Amazon opening a fulfilment centre in Dunstable is a real success story."

■ Care in the Community Award
Sponsored by Gulfstream
This award is for an individual or group from either a professional or voluntary capacity.

Those eligible include relatives (including children), friends, doctors, nurses or care workers who care for someone or a group of people.

We are looking for an individual or group who have really gone that extra mile to care for our most vulnerable, often showing incredible patience and understanding.

Judges are looking for those who have cared for others sometimes over many years without giving thought to themselves.

Last year's winner was Shirley Bunker, who cares for people struggling with mental health issues. The 79-year-old helps people put the structure back into their lives and keeps them safe. Shirley never judges and always goes above and beyond. She treats everyone with dignity and respect and supports them to turn their lives around.

■ Keeping Luton Safe Award
Sponsored by Bedfordshire & Luton Fire & Rescue Service
The judges will be looking for individual members of the public or groups who have put themselves at risk and acted with bravery and courage to help save the life or protect the well being of another.

This could include tackling crime, disorder or anti-social behaviour.

Another example could include individuals or groups which have made a positive community contribution in terms of improving the environment they live or work which improves the safety of others.

Last year's winner was The Street Pastors, who are trained volunteers who care about the community. They patrol from 10pm to 4am on Friday and Saturday night to care for, listen to and help people who are out on the streets. Not only do the street pastors volunteer to protect the people of Luton they also give up so much of their time to try and fundraise to support this much needed cause.

■ Environmental Achievement Award
Sponsored by Vauxhall

An award to an individual or organisation demonstrating a commitment to enhancing and protecting our environment, introducing environmentally sustainable products or services and, in doing so, make a contribution to Luton's environment.

Examples could include an environmental community project; a school initiative involving children and parents or an organisation's recycling policy.

Last year's winner was The Green Hub initiative at the University of Bedfordshire, which is led by Tom Ball and Adam Dembski-Bowden. The duo work very hard to put on a range of events and activities that promote everything green from recycling to gardening, to using less water and electricity. They work hard to motivate and encourage staff to recycle and use the car sharing scheme. They have also created a garden and beehive on one of the campuses.

HONOUR:
Previous winner
Jamie Kelly, centre, picks up his Outstanding
Teacher Award

An individual or organisation who has proactively promoted community cohesion and celebrated diversity in the town through their initiatives which have helped to improve the public image of Luton.

Last year's winner was Rehana Faisal, who has worked really hard to bring the community together during difficult and challenging times. When the far right group, Britain First, were planning on marching in Luton, Rehana mobilised the faith and non-faith communities under the Luton in Harmony banner and produced the 'Luton Community Statement' which was widely applauded both locally and nationally.

■ Leisure and Culture Award

Sponsored by Luton Hoo Hotel
The judges will be looking to award an individual or organisation which has excelled and inspired either as a professional or amateur in the areas of sport, arts, leisure, culture and heritage.

The individual or organisation will need to demonstrate the support, commitment and success they have provided to the development and promotion of these areas within the boundaries of Luton.

Last year's winner was The 'Artism' project - an initiative designed to allow 'individual creativity to flourish' and help the adults interact with others. The Artism group have shown that people with different ideas can come together, learn from each other and create a mural that everyone can be proud of; and add character to a local community centre.

■ Outstanding Teacher Award

Sponsored by British Land
The Teaching Award provides a unique opportunity for us to celebrate those who, tirelessly and often selflessly, dedicate their lives to securing a future for the next generation.

The judges are looking for entries from students, parents and peers across Luton who feel their teacher deserves to be thanked and rewarded for their contributions.

The person will still need to be teaching within the years 2015/2016.

Last year's winner was Jamie Kelly, who set up an enrichment scheme for his pupils. He tirelessly and regularly gives up his own weekends, after school time and school holidays to run trips, clubs, projects, workshops and fundraising events. Hundreds of his pupils have so far attended and benefitted from the trips.

To nominate someone online, visit loveluton.org.uk/lutonsbestawards or collect a form in person at locations across Luton, including the Town Hall and library.

Nominations close on Sunday, October 30.

'Gritty' performance has naked ambition

"I DON'T understand why everyone is so focused on the naked bit," Andrew Dunn told LoS.

"It handles a lot of serious issues."

Andrew, best known for his role as Tony in Dinnerladies, is currently touring as a very different character to the sarcastic canteen manager who earned him sitcom fame.

Now he's performing in Simon Beaufoy's 1997 smash hit, The Full Monty, as Gerald, a redundant foreman of a once-successful steelworks, who is trying to hide the fact that he is unemployed from his wife by joining an all-male strip-tease act.

How does he feel about his family coming to watch the show?

"I'd rather they didn't tell me, to be honest. I'd rather they sat at the back."

He admitted: "We do get a lot of drunken, screaming women in the audience. Sometimes they get so rowdy we can't hear ourselves speaking over the noise."

"People come away from the show singing, clapping, in a real feel-good mood. It is ironic people come away from this gritty story about homophobia, joblessness, suicide and depression feeling euphoric.

"The devastation of abandoned steel-mines still resonates today - entire communities never recovered."

Tickets, priced from £15.90 can be booked online at atgtickets.com
The first performance starts at 7.30pm tomorrow at Milton Keynes Theatre.

Jokes on the hot topics of today

SHAZIA Mirza's tour was so popular it needed an extension – so thanks to sold out venues she's now able to bring her cutting edge comedy to the region.

The Kardashians' Made Me Do It may be the title of her stand-up show, but don't expect gags about bum sizes. "It's about political correctness, people being offended, jihadi brides and ISIS," she tells Luton on Sunday.

"Most comedians now that you see are talking about the state of the world, like Brexit or Trump. I don't think as a comedian you can ignore those things."

"Comedians talk about the elephant in the room, but you have to be funny."

"The only people who say you can't joke about things like that are people who never see your show, and who would therefore know there's nothing offensive about it."

Shazia admits her comedy career wasn't planned, she just carried on being funny as it was "the only way to control the kids" when she was a science teacher.

Now, 11 years on and her formula is still working, as the show is packed with non-stop gags.

The gig starts at 8pm at The Stables in Milton Keynes on Wednesday, October 12.

Tickets cost £15 (plus booking fees) when you book online at www.stables.org

LENNON: THROUGH A GLASS ONION
LIBRARY THEATRE
SATURDAY, 7.30PM

A look at Lennon

THIS IS a show that's been wowing audiences and receiving rave reviews since it went on the road in 1992 – just 12 years after John Lennon's untimely death.

Inspired by the song Glass Onion, which was John Lennon's postscript to The Beatles, this show peels away the layers of time and myth to offer insight into the life and astonishing talent of one of the world's most treasured icons. Lennon: Through A Glass Onion features Liverpool actor Daniel Taylor in the lead role.

Written by John Waters, the show is part-concert, part-biography and features 31 iconic hits including Lennon solo works such as Imagine, Woman, Working Class Hero, and Jealous Guy and his collaborations with McCartney, including Strawberry Fields Forever, Revolution, and Lucy in the Sky with Diamonds.

Accompanist Stewart D'Arrietta recently enjoyed a nine-month New York run of his Tom Waits show, Belly of a Drunken Piano.

Earlier this year, he was the musical director for The White Album Concert by The Beatles, performing on stage at the world famous Sydney Opera House.

This show is not to be missed if you are a Beatles fanatic – just don't bring any yellow submarines to the car park.

The show takes place at Luton Library Theatre on Saturday at 7.30pm.

Tickets cost £15.

Big laughs from the Mouth of the South

ROB BECKETT
GROVE THEATRE
OCTOBER 16

ROB Beckett is back - and he's ready to tear up the big issues with his huge gashers in Dunstable later this month.

The hugely popular London stand-up will be taking on the tough subjects of talcum powder and flatbread as he attempts to tickle the audiences' ribs in a special extension to his sold-out Mouth of the South tour.

Rob will be flashing his toothy smile at the Grove Theatre on Sunday, October 16.

The audience can expect a bit of a ribbing from the cheeky chap, and I've heard there might even be a special treat involving Rob's famous gob and a four-finger Kit Kat.

Rob made a massive impression when he first started gigging back in 2009.

Quickly finding his feet, he won four competitions in his first year on the comedy circuit, aged just 20.

Consistently impressive performances in these competitions, culminated in Rob finishing as a runner up in So You Think You're Funny and winning the Amused Moose Laugh Off which earned him an invite to perform at comedy festivals in Australia.

At a festival in Adelaide Rob was nominated for the best newcomer award.

He made his debut at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival in 2012 with his solo show Rob Beckett's Summer Holiday, and his career swiftly took off from there.

Four years later and he's one of the country's most popular comedians.

In fact, he appears so regularly on TV screens across the country you sometimes wonder if he's moved into your living room.

The list is long: BBC2's Mock the Week; Channel 4's 8 Out of 10 Cats; BBC1's Live at the Apollo; ITV's Play To The Whistle; and ITV2's Celebrity Juice.

And he also used to present the ITV2 spin-off show I'm a Celebrity...Get Me Out of Here! NOW!

If you somehow haven't managed to catch his cheeky banter on the little screen, you might have heard his London twang on the radio.

He hosts two shows - Dave's podcast, The Magic Sponge, alongside Jimmy Bullard and Ian Smith, as well as Absolute Radio's hit show, Rock n Roll Football.

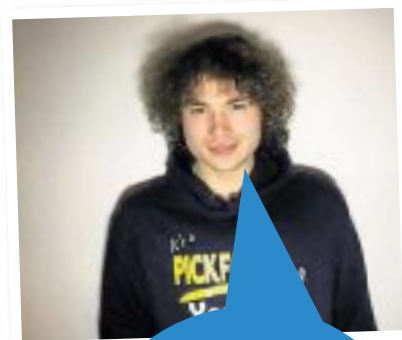

With so many strings to his bow, tickets are sure to sell out fast so those who want a seat should book soon.

The show kicks off at 8pm on October 16 and can only be attended by those aged over 15.

Tickets cost £16 and there is a £1.95 transaction fee.

To reserve a seat, call the theatre's box office on 01582 60 20 80 (option 7) or go online and visit grovetheatre.co.uk

Want to move by Christmas? Here's how Think you've left it too late to move home in 2016? Think again.

What better time to be enjoying your new home is at Christmas when there's lots of family time, entertaining and opportunities to proudly show off your new abode.

It's not too late to make a move if you really want to make the jump, but local property expert Ed Harrison says you have to move quickly to get your existing property on the market and be in a position to make an offer for that perfect new home you've got your eye on.

Here are 10 tips to get you moving.

1. Redecorate. Give your house a speedy makeover to freshen it up and make it more attractive to prospective buyers.

2. Declutter. Get rid of it all. Viewers like to see space, not junk.

3. Decide where you want to move to and the maximum budget.

4. Call an estate agent to value and market your house. Make sure you choose one with your interests at heart. Personal service can make all the difference.

5. Listen to the experts' advice to obtain a quick sale, especially as you've got a deadline.

6. Ask the estate agent for details of houses on the market with an early entry date.

7. Arrange your mortgage. There's no point in finding your ideal property then getting turned down for a loan.

8. Be available for viewers. Accommodate them as much as possible. The sooner they view the house, the sooner you've got a buyer.

9. Be ready to move fast with an offer for your next house so you don't lose out.

10. Book the removal van and plan your Christmas celebrations. Remember to give your friends and relatives your new address.

The Luton and Dunstable area is an ideal choice for house hunters wanting to live in Bedfordshire because it is out of the city of London but within commuting distance for city workers.

Ed has tremendous experience of the local property market and the attraction for both first time buyers and those climbing up the property ladder. "Buying in Bedfordshire gives the best of both worlds. Buyers can get a far bigger home for their money than they would if they were to buy in the city. They also have fantastic countryside amenities, fantastic transport links to London and quality local shopping and leisure facilities."

Ed, of independent estate agents Deakin-White, said:

"It's still a great place to buy a reasonable sized house for a good price in an area where there are lots of employment opportunities and good transport links to London."

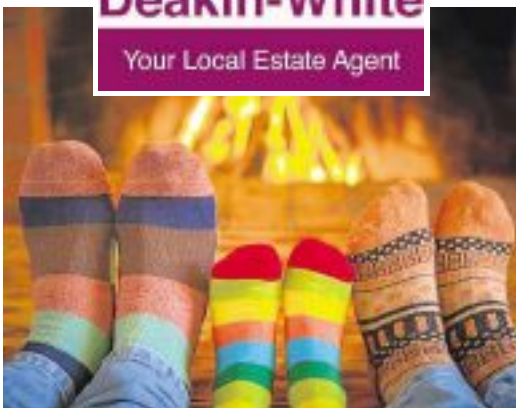

Buying in Luton or Dunstable also means that purchasers can buy a good-size, good quality family home for the price of an apartment in London.

"It is lots cheaper to buy a good family home in Dunstable rather than in London. For example, a three-bedroom semi-detached house, ideal for a family, would cost around £250,000 in Dunstable compared to a two-bedroom apartment in Watford."

For more information about buying or selling in Dunstable or Luton, contact Deakin-White at The Incuba, 1 Brewers Hill Road, Dunstable, Bedfordshire, LU6 1AA; tel 01582 343 548, email Sales@Deakin-White.co.uk, visit the website <http://www.deakin-white.co.uk/>

Have you ever read a science fiction book, bought a Status Quo album or read a Jeffrey Archer novel? If you have, then unknowingly you'll have enjoyed the artistic talents of illustrator Chris Moore.

The 69-year-old artist has enjoyed a varied and prolific career particularly in science fiction book covers which have earned him a fan base both in the UK and the US. But he's also worked on books by leading authors including Jackie Collins, Claire Francis, Wilbur Smith and Colin Forbes and albums by Rod Stewart and Motorhead.

But despite working for such well-known authors and musicians, Chris says his biggest project has been his house, a large cowshed that he

"It is a very beautiful here and I've done quite a few paintings of the nearby landscape, he says. "We bought the property as a wreck complete with farm machines back in 1991 and then converted it in three stages - it's been a labour of love."

"But our children have now moved home and gone to work in London and so it's far too big for us now so we're going to move to the South West."

Leap of faith for Luton Community Housing

HR Director completes skydive for charity

After several cancellations and a nervous wait, Claire McDonald, HR Director for local housing association, Luton Community Housing (LCH) finally achieved her goal; skydiving to raise money for the charitable housing organisation.

Raising just over £1,500 for LCH, the employee alongside partner Lee Bryan completed their challenge at Hinton air field in Northamptonshire. Claire and Lee had to wait several weeks before being able to complete the dive due to bad weather conditions, with several last minute cancellations leaving them wondering whether they would ever get off the ground.

With the support of her colleagues, Claire and Lee took off in the last plane of the day on Friday September 16. The challenge was made that much harder by the thick, heavy clouds and unpredictable weather during the day. Yet they finally fell from over 13,000 feet in the air in the name of charity.

Both participants landed safely and have already claimed that they would happily repeat the activity. Claire initially had set a target to raise £1,000 but they raised a lot more than they ever expected. By exceeding this target by such an extent, this is one of the most successful individual fundraising events in the charities history.

Claire McDonald, HR Director said: "WE DID IT! What an experience, and for such a fantastic cause; I'm still on top of the world remembering the freefall; it was truly magical. Lee and I have been completely bowled over by everyone's kind generosity and support, we can't thank everyone enough. All donations will be put forward towards supporting our single homeless hostel residents. This will make a real difference to real people. People that have the right to shelter, to choice and towards building a life in which they feel included".

Daisy Craydon, Marketing Officer at Luton Community Housing said: "Huge congratulations to Claire and Lee on their outstanding achievement. After a long wait they held their nerve and produced a truly remarkable moment, all in the name of Luton Community Housing. Their efforts will ensure that we can expand our services to help even more vulnerable people in Luton."

If you are inspired by Claire and Lee, there is still time to donate using the Just Giving page: <https://www.justgiving.com/fundraising/claireandleech>.

Or alternatively if you would like to watch Claire and Lee's skydive then visit the Luton Community Housing Youtube channel.

Sell now and move by Christmas, says Connells

Connells' Six Week Challenge to sell your home in record time -

Local estate agency Connells are urging homeowners to start marketing their homes now if they want to be moved by Christmas. According to the branch, September is an ideal time to sell your home and by taking advantage of the company's 'Six Week Challenge', customers can successfully sell their property in record time and for the best price.

"September is an ideal time to sell your home," says Will Jones Branch Partner at Connells Stopsley "It's traditionally one of the busiest times of the year for us with the summer holidays over, and buyers returning to the market keen to purchase before the end of the year."

"Our 'Six Week Challenge' – where we use all our expertise and knowledge of the local housing market to help sellers secure a buyer in less than six weeks - has been hugely successful for our customers over the summer months," continues Will. "With even more properties required to meet current buyer demand, we would urge those interested in moving to make the most of a buoyant housing market and put us to the challenge!"

If you are thinking of selling your home, keen to move by Christmas and would like to be considered for Connells' 'Six Week Challenge', please contact the local branch on 01582 737069 or email: Stopsley@connells.co.uk

How does an ordinary housewife become a notorious international criminal?

When Anne Darwin told the world – and her family – that her husband, John, had disappeared while canoeing in the North Sea, her life changed forever. She had just lied to the police, the press, her friends and neighbours and her own sons. While her husband hid next door, Anne claimed the life insurance – then left with him to start a new life in Panama.

REDBORNE UPPER SCHOOL and COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Invite you to our

OPPORTUNITIES IN THE SIXTH FORM EVENING

on Thursday 13th October, 2016 at 6.15 pm for new students in The Connolly Hall

The Sixth Form at Redborne is both popular and highly successful. Our students achieve excellent results and this year the progress they made put us in the top 10% of schools in the country. 59% of our students achieved A*-B and the overall pass rate was 100%.

We offer a broad range of subjects and our curriculum was rated as 'outstanding' in our most recent OFSTED inspections. We offer a range of vocational and two year A level courses, including popular arts subjects such as music, art, drama and fashion and clothing.

There is a strong community ethos in Redborne's Sixth Form. Our students, aided by facilities such as a dedicated Common Room, PC suite and a new, state-of-the-art hall and study area, work hard. But they find time to take part in a range of enrichment opportunities, charity events and extra-curricular activities.

Approximately 80% of our students go onto university. In the last three years, 18 have gone on to study at Oxford or Cambridge or Medicine / Veterinary Science.

If you are interested in Redborne but are unable to come to our Sixth Form Evening, please contact the Sixth Form Pastoral Support Officer on 01525 842619 for a Sixth Form Prospectus and Curriculum Guide or to make an appointment to look around the school. Bentley goes diesel with Bentayga

By: Stewart Smith

BENTLEY Motors has announced details of the first diesel model in the iconic British brand's history, the Bentayga Diesel, which it claims is the fastest SUV in the world.

The Bentayga Diesel hits a top speed of 168mph and can accelerate from 0-60mph in just 4.6 seconds.

At the heart of the world's fastest and most powerful luxury diesel SUV is an all-new, technologically advanced, triple-charged, 4.0-litre, 32-valve V8 engine developing 429bhp.

New technology gives the Bentayga Diesel the lowest CO2 emissions of any Bentley, as well as a range of over 621 miles – allowing owners to, for example, drive from London to Verbier, Bordeaux or the Scottish Highlands on a single tank.

The performance figures are little different to those of the 608bhp W12 Bentayga launched last year – although the diesel has an official fuel return of 35.8mpg compared to the 21.6 of the petrol version, making it the most fuel efficient Bentley ever.

Bentley says the development programme for the Bentayga has been the most exhaustive in the brand's history, ranging across five continents.

From the dirt and gravel of South Africa and the dunes of Dubai, to the muddy fields of Cheshire near its factory at Crewe, and from -30C in the frozen North Cape to searing 50C desert heat, the Bentayga's ability to perform on any surface and even in the most extreme conditions has been proven.

Bentley says the Bentayga Diesel offers great ride comfort, steering feel and handling thanks to a sophisticated chassis and electronic stability control. In addition to advanced, multi-mode traction control, the Bentayga also features hill descent control.

Other innovative systems available include Electronic Night Vision, which uses infra-red technology to identify potential obstacles ahead, and a head-up display, which reduces driver distraction and increases safety.

The Bentayga's eight-inch touch screen infotainment system includes navigation technology, a 60GB hard drive and a choice of up to 30 languages.

Rear seat passengers benefit from the introduction of the Bentley Entertainment Tablet – a removable 10.2-inch Android device with 4G, Wi-Fi and Bluetooth for high-speed on-board connectivity.

Prices have yet to be finalised and deliveries will begin in Europe early next year.

COVERCAR

Nissan Juke Nismo RS

BY PATRICK JAMES

THE Nissan Juke, just like its stablemate the top-selling Qashqai, has been something of a surprise package with runaway sales in the booming crossover market.

Nissan says the Juke has attracted a huge number of buyers who are new to the brand. As much as 82 per cent of sales have been to first-time Nissan owners.

It's look is very much in the eye of the beholder with some not at all keen on the frog-eyed look, but in the main the individual, off-beat design has been well received.

Despite being a compact crossover/SUV, Nissan has succumbed to temptation to produce muscled-up version with the Nismo RS.

Now the latest version of the firecrackers has had its power tweaked by 18ps, to a powerful 218ps which delivers blistering performance.

The 1.6 petrol engine powers the car from 0-60mph in just seven seconds, proper hot hatch performance, although with its high stance and not-very-dynamic shape, it does not really look like a hot hatch.

Admittedly, the look is enhanced with red brake calipers and discreet 'RS' badging on the front and rear. In addition it adds rear spoiler, lower front and rear bumpers, wider wings and sill side skirts, plus a dark chrome 'V-motion' grille.

Other sporting touches include red door mirror caps, new LED daytime running lights and eye-catching 18-inch alloy wheels.

The sporty look and performance is topped off with a retuned exhaust system providing a sportier engine note thanks to a large diameter exhaust silencer.

Inside, the RS logo appears in the rev counter while a distinctive suede wrap covers the instrument binnacle. The interior is finished in grey cloth trim, with black headliner. Four adults are seated in comfort and headroom is surprisingly good.

The crossover offers also smartphone connectivity with access to a variety of apps ranging from social media platforms to entertainment - including internet radio - through a large, 5.8-inch colour touchscreen on the dashboard which also controls other major functions. It also doubles as a monitor for the newest version of Nissan's Around View Monitor which gives a complete real-time 360 degree 'helicopter' view around the car to make manoeuvring as safe and easy as possible.

Handling is bound to be compromised when compared to a standard hot hatch, but a strengthened body structure, bigger brakes, revised spring and damper settings and limited slip differential as standard on the two wheel drive version means you are hard pressed to detect the difference.

In fact the slightly elevated ride height is helpful for all round vision when racing around bends. Otherwise, it feels composed and docile when pottering around town.

Economy is not bad either with 39.2mpg claimed and relatively decent carbon emissions of 168g/km, although fuel economy is probably not a major factor however for buyers of this model.

Performance is dynamic and it is a great ride, aided by responsive steering, while the form-fitting sports seats keep you firmly in place.

But this is still a crossover and practicality still counts. The shape of the boot has increased in two-wheel drive models by 40 per cent, taking the overall capacity to 354 litres. The flat folding rear seat and a two stage floor in the boot also allows for the carriage of larger objects.

Safety equipment is comprehensive and includes Nissan Safety Shield which includes lane departure warning, blind spot warning, moving object detection as well as sensors, all round airbags and stability control.

Paris reveal for Ferrari's first V8 four seater

By: Stewart Smith

THIS is the first four-seat V8 turbo-charged Prancing Horse which is about to be unveiled at the Paris Motor Show.

The Ferrari GTC4Lusso T is powered by a 3.9-litre V8 turbo and is the latest evolution to emerge from the engine family that was nominated the 2016 International Engine of the Year.

Its maximum power output is 610bhp at 7,500 rpm while maximum torque of 760Nm is available at between 3,000 and 5,250 rpm.

The GTC4Lusso T has stunning speed, with a top whack of 198mph and a blistering 0-62mph time of just 3.5 seconds.

One of the main features on this stunning motor are its dynamic control systems which have been specifically calibrated to boost responsiveness to commands.

In particular, the car has four wheel steering which is integrated with Ferrari's latest side slip control system which makes for more rapid response when entering and exiting corners. The rear wheels steer in the same direction as those at the front.

The GTC4Lusso T's has a streamlined, tapered shape that gives it an almost fastback-like silhouette.

Inside, the car features what Ferrari calls Dual Cockpit architecture which is designed to off the best for both driver and passenger. It also incorporates the latest infotainment system complete with an impressive 10.25-inch HD touchscreen

Caterham sprints to a sell out

By: Stewart Smith

The latest incarnation of the Caterham Seven – the retro-heavy Sprint – has sold out in the space of a week.

All 60 of the £27,995 special edition built for the UK and Europe were snapped up within seven days of the car's unveiling at the Goodwood Revival.

The car, which features the same three-cylinder, 80bhp Suzuki engine as the entry-level Seven 160 and features bespoke styling harking back to the mid-1960s, heralds the start of celebrations for Caterham Cars' 60 Years of Seven celebrations, which will culminate next year.

Caterham's chief commercial officer, David Ridley, said: "We have been overwhelmed with the response to the Sprint. We knew of course it was a great product but the reaction we got is unprecedented."

"In a typical year, we'll sell around 500 cars meaning that, with the Sprint, we've sold more than 10 per cent of our annual sales figure in a week. It's been the perfect scene-setter to our 60 Years of Seven celebrations."

NEW MINI CLUBMAN IS THE WORKS

By: Stewart Smith

THE new MINI Clubman estate has been given the John Cooper Works treatment making it the most powerful Clubman to date with 231bhp enabling a 0-62mph time of just 6.3 seconds and a top speed of 148 mph. Full John Cooper Works specification includes upgraded suspension, braking, cooling, exterior styling and interior features. It can be ordered now and is priced from £29,345 with the six-speed manual gearbox, and £30,945 with the eight-speed sports Steptronic transmission. As the latest member of the John Cooper Works family the latest Clubman features all the upgrades already seen on the John Cooper Works Hatch and Convertible models. These include the 231bhp engine with modified MINI TwinPower turbocharger. Fuel economy is rated at around 41.5mpg on the combined cycle with CO2 emissions of 154 g/km. The MINI Clubman JCW comes with an upgraded interior including sports seats, an alcantara headliner and an array of standard equipment including MINI Navigation, Bluetooth and USB connectivity, and cruise control with a braking function.

On the outside, the Clubman's standard LED headlamps are surrounded by a daytime driving light ring that also uses LED technology, the lower section of which is white and acts as the turn indicator. The horizontally arranged rear light units also comprise LED lamps. The 2.0-litre turbocharged engine is fed through either a six-speed manual gearbox or an eight-speed sports Steptronic transmission and the suspension has been upgraded to handle the power hike.

MINI says it expects more than 80 per cent of the Clubman JCWs to be specified with the popular Chili pack which adds a host of extras including the choice of any upholstery from the range, heated seats, 19-inch alloy wheels and extra storage inside. The Chili pack is priced at £2,000.

ALL TERRAIN ABILITY FOR MERC ESTATE

By: Stewart Smith

MERCEDES-BENZ is to introduce a go-anywhere version of the E-Class estate which can tackle routes where conventional cars have to give up. The new E-Class All-Terrain comes with greater ground clearance and 4MATIC all-wheel drive. It also gets rugged styling and flared wheel arches to create a tough look. The newcomer will arrive in the UK early next year. With air suspension three ride settings from 0 to +35mm are selectable. Independent of the driving programme the highest level can also be selected manually. The E-Class All-Terrain is 29 millimetres higher than the E-Class Estate – 14mm of which is due to the tyres' larger height/width ratio and 15mm to the normal driving level of the air suspension. The ground clearance is 121 to 156mm. The All-Terrain driving programme has a special indicator in the vehicle display.

Information displayed there includes the steering angle, the vehicle level, the angle of slope and the angle of inclination, the accelerator/brake position and a compass. At launch the All-Terrain will be kitted out with an E 220 d 4MATIC 194bhp newly developed four-cylinder diesel engine. A short time later a variant with a six-cylinder diesel engine will follow. Both models come with the new 9G-TRONIC nine-speed automatic transmission as standard. A feature of the front is the SUV-style two-fin grille with the star integrated in the centre. A new look front bumper and lower panelling, electroplated in silver-chrome, also contribute to the robust appearance. The interior includes aluminium-carbon effect trim that is exclusive to the All-Terrain model as well as stainless steel sports pedals and floor mats with All-Terrain lettering.

SEAT UNVEILS MII BY COSMOPOLITAN

By : Mike Torpey

A NEW city car model from SEAT called the Mii by Cosmopolitan will hit UK streets early next year.

It is described as understanding the feminine side and lifestyle of the 'fun and fearless' Cosmo girl.

Pricing has not yet been released but the Mii variant will feature a 1.0-litre 75PS engine with five-speed manual transmission and boast Combined fuel economy of 64.2mpg.

Designed with the tastes and preferences of Cosmopolitan's audience in mind, the newcomer was part designed by Cosmo readers, who shared their thoughts and opinions via surveys and product testing, offering feedback and ideas.

Two colours, Violetto and Candy White, will be available and Cosmopolitan is supporting the launch with a social media campaign around the hashtag #ThisIsMii

NEW RECORD FOR WORLD'S FASTEST BEETLE

By :Mike Torpey

A specially-tuned Volkswagen Beetle has set a new record at the traditional World of Speed event on the salt flats at Lake Bonneville in Utah, USA.

The Beetle LSR - Land Speed Record - with its turbocharged 2.0-litre direct-injection engine drove the fastest speed ever documented for a Beetle, 205.122mph over one mile.

The car's output was boosted to 550PS courtesy of changes that included a new turbocharger, different pistons, camshafts, connecting rods and cylinder head modifications.

There were also special wheels and tyres for driving on salt, the body was significantly lowered, a limited-slip differential was used to improve traction – and there were two brake parachutes for slowing the Beetle down.

The performance was officially recorded at the driving record event sponsored by the Utah Salt Flats Racing Association, which is held every year in mid-summer

Light is shone on murky dealings

DEPENDING on your perspective, this has either been a week where football has had its reputation dragged through the mud or one that has finally seen it brought to task.

The sheer scale of revelations to come out of the Daily Telegraph's investigation into corruption in English football means it has become much more than simply bringing the downfall of Sam Allardyce.

The England national team, and the Football Association in extension, has previous in imploding when it comes to its managers – the manner of Glenn Hoddle and Fabio Capello's departures spring to mind.

We even had one manager resign in the gents in the aftermath of a game, but the situation with Allardyce really is unprecedented – and it turned out to be the tip of the iceberg.

Let's look past the man's greed and the way he told undercover reporters ways of circumventing his then-employers' rules about the banning of third party ownerships of players. That's been covered to death.

Certainly what has followed has put to bed any notion this was a devious media ploy to bring down a high-profile figure via 'entrapment' (a term risibly used by Allardyce).

The allegations since of Premier League managers accepting bungs and the revelations that this sort of practice has permeated down into the lower levels of the game in this country has confirmed what the Telegraph is doing is much bigger than that.

What it has done is shine a light on the murky dealings in football that many always suspected took place and shown that it has been allowed to become a law unto itself.

It's encouraging that the FA have already shown interest in discussing the Telegraph's

BROUGHT DOWN: Sam Allardyce's brief tenure as England manager ended in light of the allegations findings with the paper itself and with the police. I'm sure I wasn't the only one expecting them to put their hands over their ears.

For their own credibility (stop laughing at the back), this was the only decision the governing body, which has been vociferous in its criticism of the rotten culture at FIFA, could take.

They certainly seem more willing to get their own house in order, rather than sweep the allegations under the carpet, as FIFA tried to with the Sunday Times' allegations of corruption in the awarding of the 2018 and 2022 World Cups.

Should it lead to English football cleaning up its act, it will reward one of the most impressive examples of journalism we've seen all year.

Just before Allardyce fell on his sword to bring his 67-day reign to an abrupt end, BT Sport presenter Jake Humphrey pompously tweeted that he had been "undone by a trio of greed, naivety and our poisonous press."

The level of ire he drew from journalists, who hate little more than broadcasters blaming 'the media', made him realise how ignorant he had sounded and re-wrote his tweet to "ruthless."

That was better, but a more fitting word for it is brilliant.

There's been some bleating about the clandestine method they used to unearth the level of corruption blighting the sport, but how else were they supposed to get the information they needed?

Those implicated may have been naïve in being caught by this sting, but they were hardly going to give a Frost/Nixon moment in a sit-down interview.

Instead of people who know nothing about the industry turning their nose up in the Telegraph's methods, how about giving them the applause they deserve?

Park left still looking for that winning feeling

RUGBY UNION

STOCKWOOD Park were narrowly beaten 28-23 at home to Tabard as they continue the search for their first league win of the new campaign in the London leagues.

"It was a close game" said Park Chairman Mark Lovell. "It really could have gone either way. I think the difference between the two sides was that they took their chances when they were presented with them and we didn't, it's as simple as that, really."

Park trailed 18-11 at the turnaround and continued to press for the win until the final whistle but, in Lovell's words, they run out of time.

Park's points were scored by Phil Docherty, Stephen Pollock and James Hankey tries, with Matt Jones adding a brace of penalties and Hankey a conversion.

Back in the Midlands leagues Luton (above) and Dunstablians both enjoyed winning weekends, as Luton defeated Vipers 26-13 while the Dees thrashed St Neots 58-14.

"That was a very good game," said Luton manager Steve Evans, "though we looked below our best in the first half. Nick Rhodes got in the huddle at half-time and had a few words – that seemed to do the trick because in the first ten minutes after the restart we were exceptional."

Luton lead 7-3 at the break through an Aiden Kenny try, converted by Rik Hobbs, and Steve Allan crossed twice and Martin O'Grady once in the second half, with Hobbs converting two out of three.

Dunstablians led 24-7 at half time in their Midlands Three clash on the road at St Neots, and added a further 34 points in the second half as Matty Anderson ran in a hat-trick; the Dees have now won two from three this term.

Their try scorers included Anderson [3], Kevin Boland, Max Thorn, Will Hewitt, Nathan Aris, Glen Brinkley and Stuart Hall, with Boland and Zach Bourne sharing kicking duties.

Blues dominated at home to Basingstoke

DUNSTABLE Town suffered their second successive loss in the Evo Stik Southern League Premier Division at the hands of visiting Basingstoke Town.

The visitors got off to a flying start and were rewarded in the 16th minute, with Romone Rose firing home.

Neither goalkeeper was really threatened for the most of the remainder of the half, but the visitors could have doubled their lead just before the break.

Ashleigh Artwell fired an effort at goal, which forced The Blues' goalkeeper Jack Smith into a save.

Soon after the restart, Dunstable found themselves back in the game with their first shot on target of the game, when Jack Hutchinson levelled in the 48th minute.

However, that was also the hosts' last effort on goal, as Basingstoke took total control of the tie.

They made the most of their dominance, with Nawa Owusu putting the visitors back in front in the 66th minute, before Richie Whittingham made sure of the result with 73 gone.

In the Evo Stik Southern League Division One Central, Barton Rovers moved into a play off spot with a 1-0 home win over Aylesbury United, with Charlie Smith's 44th minute strike giving Rovers their third straight win.

Elsewhere in the division, Dunstable Town had to settle for a 2-2 draw away to Aylesbury FC, which sees them remain in 10th place.

Hylton: Doncaster red harsh

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

DANNY Hylton scored on his return from suspension as Luton drew 1-1 at Cheltenham and admitted he'd let himself down with last week's red card but said the new dissent rules are going a "little bit" too far.

In the 3-1 win against Doncaster, the striker was shown a second yellow card for throwing a litter picker he'd found after being bundled into advertising hoardings.

That meant he missed the mid-week draw at Hartlepool but he returned to score his sixth of the season at Whaddon Road, before the Robins pegged the Hatters back.

On last weekend's incident, Hylton said: "I found a litter picker from somewhere and I've thrown it at the floor. The linesman said I threw it at him but I don't quite know how he came to that conclusion, but he did. It was silly on my part."

"It's a bit like a naughty little kid, really. You throw your toy on the floor and get in trouble with your dad. Although it was a harsh yellow card, it was silly and I think it's always going to be a yellow card now."

Asked if the new rules – which have seen referees take a tougher stance on dissent – are now too harsh, the forward said: "A little bit. It's a man's game. If you can't show a bit of frustration or lose your temper a little bit, in the right way – I didn't run up and hit anyone, did I? – I just threw something at the floor. It's not the best and maybe it's going a little too far, but those are the rules and you've got to deal with them."

While Hylton admitted his wrongdoing, he also declared that he won't let the incident or a looming second suspension – if he is cautioned for a fifth time this term – affect his game.

"I let myself down last week. I let the team, the gaffer, everyone down. It's silly. I'll learn from it and it won't happen again. I'll just try to let the football do the talking," he said, adding: "I know I'm on a fine line. One more booking and I'll be banned again but it won't change me."

On his goal – a wonderful solo effort – Hylton said: "It's always nice to score. I try to score in every game I play. It was nice to give the team a lead. We'd maybe been under the cosh a bit but I thought we could go on from there. It wasn't to be."

BACK IN BUSINESS: Danny Hylton marked his return to the side with a goal

Luton can't rock against Robins

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE

sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

CHELTHENHAM TOWN 1
LUTON TOWN 1

LUTON came away from Cheltenham with a point but a sense of frustration as, in a town more synonymous with the gees, they just weren't at the races.

A masked and deadly, Danny Hylton gave the Robins the Dick Turpin treatment, with his wonderful 52nd minute solo effort. Highway robbery, as that was the Hatters' first shot on target. They managed just two more.

While that was a lesson in ruthlessness, it was not matched by the defence. Scott Cuthbert conceded a soft corner and the Robins were allowed two stabs at a leveller. First Danny Wright had an effort cleared off the line, but Daniel O'Shaughnessy – who'd had his blood twisted by Hylton for Luton's goal – redeemed himself to thump in the rebound.

It was a seventh straight game without the clean sheet that manager Nathan Jones had called for in the week.

That they only conceded the one, was the real success as they were outplayed and bombarded aerially throughout but found the Robins short of killer instinct in a case of the league table lying – with Luton beginning the day in second and the Robins second from bottom. At the

MASKED MARAUDER:
Danny Hylton's
wonderful opener
was a rare high point for the Hatters

end of it, the visitors slipped down to fourth in the League Two.

"[I'm] a little bit frustrated in terms of how we played, but credit to Cheltenham, they stifled us, they put us under pressure, especially from any dead ball situation," Jones said, adding: "We knew we had to be better in the second half, we got the goal and then we're disappointed to concede from a set play. We've earmarked that because 54 per cent of their goals have come from set plays. Now, that's probably slightly higher."

Hylton was one of three Hatters changes, returning from suspension, while Jordan Cook and Cuthbert were restored to the starting line-up after injury forced them off against Doncaster last weekend.

They found themselves on the back foot from the off and, barring the opener and the odd counter, there they stayed.

They had to wait until midway through the first period for a sniff and when James Justin's deflected cross looped up Hylton could only poke wide a difficult opportunity.

For all the hosts' height advantage, the Hatters had numerous let-offs. O'Shaughnessy should have put Cheltenham ahead early on but Luton as should Wright but both headers failed to hit the target.

Then, out of nothing, Hylton bagged his sixth of the season – and he need only slap himself on the back in praise. After a give-and-go with Justin the striker then turned O'Shaughnessy out wide, burst into the box, rounded keeper Russell Griffiths and then thumped into an empty net.

It could have been smash-and-grab with bells on had Cameron McGeehan been a couple of inches more precise, five minutes later, from a well-worked free-kick routine that saw Jack Marriott dummy Cook's set piece to set the midfielder up.

Instead, frustration loomed large when Cuthbert – excellent throughout in his repelling of Cheltenham – conceded a needless corner. O'Shaughnessy supplied the sickening blow.

There were a few nervous moments then as Cheltenham's Hall seemed determined to score against his old side, with one poked effort requiring ever measure of Christian Walton's 6ft 5ins frame to tip wide.

And though McGeehan and Olly Lee both hit the target in the closing stages, with Griffiths fumbling the former, Luton never really threatened any late drama, which was emphasised when midfielder Jonathan Smith replaced Marriott to make his 150th appearance for the club and help shore things up for a point with 15 minutes to go. There was no photo finish required, but this was hardly Gold Cup standard.
